

WAREHOUSE FOR WASHINGTON

Northwest Harvest is moving to a larger, modern warehouse after losing the donated warehouse where we performed the heart of our mission—receiving, handling and distributing food—for more than 20 years. A new warehouse is critical to our efforts to provide more nutritious food to our partner food banks and meal programs throughout the state.

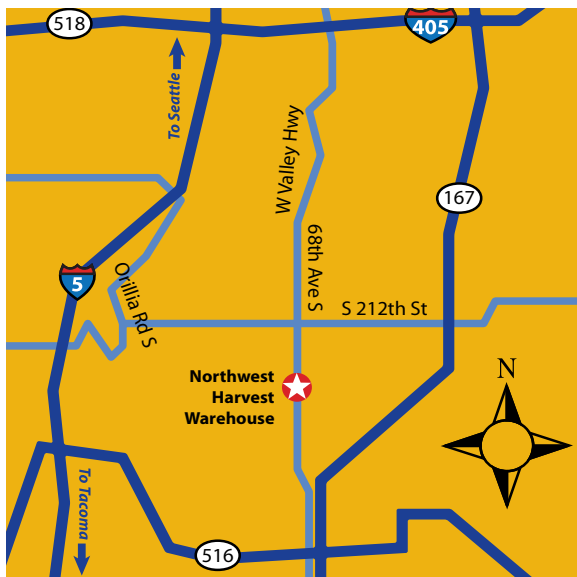

- Proximity to I-5 corridor: less than 2 miles
- Number of loading docks: 10
- Total square footage: 94,225 square feet
- Onsite refrigerated and freezer storage
- Storage capacity for 1,320,000 cubic feet of goods

Modern storage facilities will extend the shelf life of perishable foods and provide more space for all foods, especially frozen goods and produce. Increased storage capacity means room to expand our vital repacking services.

Northwest Harvest plans to nearly double the amount of food we secure by 2016. This means that every year thereafter we will be able to secure the equivalent of 875 semi-truck loads of food for Washington's hungry.

Our new warehouse will enhance Northwest Harvest's vital contribution to Washington's economy. With this warehouse, we will be positioned to support clients, the agricultural industry and the varied communities of Washington State.
